

10 Cited as Outstanding U. S.

CPYRGHT

Nine men and one woman—seven of whom work in the Washington area—were named by the National Civil Service League yesterday as the outstanding Federal Government career workers for 1960.

The League, a non-partisan civic organization founded in 1881 to spearhead the drive against the spoils system, cited the following as the top 10 civil servants:

Allen V. Astin, director of the National Bureau of Standards; Ethel B. Dietrich, Economic Office of the U. S. Mission to NATO and European Regional Organizations in Paris; Judson D. DeRamus, Veterans Administration regional manager at Winston-Salem, N. C.; Edwin L. Kilby, Public Debt Commissioner; Lyman B. Kirkpatrick Jr., Central Intelligence Agency Inspector General.

Also, Eugene Stone Love, assistant chief, Aero-Physics Division, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Langley Field, Va.; Rufus E. Miles Jr., Health, Education and Welfare Director of Administration; Franklin K. Pittman, director of reactor development, Atomic Energy Commission; Alvin J. Roseman, International Cooperation Administration's Far Eastern operations regional director, and William F. Schaub, chief of the Military Division, Bureau of the Budget.

Selected from List of 60

The winners, selected from more than 60 nominations submitted by Federal departments and agencies, were selected by the League's Board of Directors.

The League has given the annual awards since 1955 to the 10 Federal workers who "represent the best traditions of the career service by their competence, character and achievements," Nicholas Kelly, president of the League, said.

The awards will be presented at a dinner on March 15 at the Sheraton-Park Hotel. The winners were cited as follows:

Astin, of 5008 Battery Lane, Bethesda—a Government employee for 27 years, the last seven as head of the Bureau of Standards—Government science programs. he

CPYRGHT Workers

CPYRGHT

Astin DeRamus Miss Dietrich Kilby Kirkpatrick Love

... named outstanding Government career workers for 1960

CPYRGHT

has done pioneering work in developing radio telemetering techniques and instruments, especially applied to meteorological and cosmic ray problems.

Miss Dietrich, stationed in Paris—entered Federal service in 1941 after 22 years as professor of economics at Mt. Holyoke College. She is recognized as an expert on international trade.

Streamlined Bureau

DeRamus—a veteran of 35 years in Government. Assigned to the VA's regional office in Winston-Salem after serving as rehabilitation assistant and chief attorney. His station won the VA's "best regional office" awards in 1957 and 1958.

Kilby, of 5212 Little Falls

rd., Arlington spent all his adult life in Government, rising from a War Department clerkship to head of the Public Debt Bureau. In the last six years he has streamlined his Bureau personnel from 3725 to 2416.

Kirkpatrick, of 207 Orchard drive, Fairfax, entered CIA in 1947 after career in OSS and Army intelligence. Helped set up and organize CIA's activities and now, as inspector general, assesses policies and keeps the agency alert to actual or potential problem situations.

Love worked for the last 12 years at the Langley Field Research Center, contributed importantly to the design of the X-15. Currently is working on a vehicle.

Miles Pittman Roseman Schaub

CPYRGHT cited by National Civil Service League

Miles, of 3309 Cummings Lane, Chevy Chase served 23 years in three Federal agencies, is the top career man in HEW, where he is responsible for financial management and administration.

Pittman, of 4740 Connecticut ave. nw., joined the AEC in 1948. Named to head the Reactor Development Division 10 years later. He is responsible for success of scientific programs costing over half a billion dollars this year.

Roseman of 2836 Albemarle st. nw., 24 years in Government. Responsible for developing and implementing, through 10 U. S. operations missions, ICA programs in the Far East.

Schaub of 4814 Bradley blvd., Chevy Chase, joined the Federal service in 1933. The President's foremost career staff adviser on budgeting for military programs.